Introduction

The Arizona Community College Association (ACCA) is a voluntary, duespaying organization consisting of these accredited community college districts: Coconino, Graham, Maricopa, Mohave, Navajo, Pima, Pinal, Yavapai and Yuma/La Paz. These districts served more than 350.000 students in FY 06.

ACCA exists to promote and strengthen Arizona's community colleges. Members meet seven times per fiscal year.

ACCA consists of Officers and a Board of Directors. Officers include a President, Vice President and Secretary/Treasurer. The Board of Directors consists of a Trustee from each of the member districts and their respective Chief Executive Officers.

The Arizona Association of District Governing Boards (AADGB) functions under the umbrella of ACCA. AADGB members consist of one Trustee from each member district. Each locally elected governing board appoints one member as its representative. AADGB has its own slate of officers, nominated and elected to terms of one year by the membership.

The Arizona Community College Presidents' Council (ACCPC) also functions under the umbrella of ACCA. ACCPC members consist of all Chancellors and Presidents from member districts. ACCPC has its own slate of officers, nominated and elected to terms of one year by the membership.

Officers from AADGB and ACCPC comprise the Executive Committee, which authorizes the work of ACCA's Executive Director, Ms. Kathy Boyle. ACCA staff and contractors report to Ms. Boyle. During the legislative session, weekly teleconferences and bill summaries provide ACCA members with current information regarding legislation affecting Arizona's community colleges.

Major Accomplishments in 2005-2006

At the ACCA annual legislative retreat in September, results confirmed the focus on enhancing access and affordability for students, while ensuring that clear pathways exist for community college students to meet their educational goals.

The 2006 Legislative Session began with a budget surplus that resulted in greater demands on the state's general fund. Strong lobbying efforts by Trustees, CEOs and Presidents, legislative team members and community partners ensured districts received full enrollment growth funding for all community colleges statewide.

Major Issues in 2005-2006

Higher education continued to be a major focus of the state legislature. ACCA worked with legislative members on student focused models of higher education delivery. Avenues for enhanced access and affordability were topics of significant discussion. ACCA spent considerable time attempting to defeat legislation that was harmful to the mission and students of community colleges including changing how credit/non-credit courses could be offered. loss of academic freedom, the reset of the rate that penalized districts not at their levy capacity, and reductions in adult basic education opportunities. among other measures.

In addition to legislative issues, ACCA was involved in a number of other efforts to assist the state in meeting the increasing demands for higher education. Governor Napolitano's P-20 Council continued to bring business leaders, policy makers and educators together to improve coordinate the K-12 through higher education continuum in Arizona. Chancellor of the Maricopa Community College District, Dr. Rufus Glasper, served as Co-Chair of the Council, Dr. Roy Flores, Chancellor of the Pima Community College District and Mark Bryce, J.D., President of College, Eastern Arizona provided additional community college leadership on the panel.

ACCA is also working with the Joint Conference Committee to enhance transfer and articulation between the colleges and public universities, to provide pathways to baccalaureate degrees, and explore the need and create a pathway for a four-year regional degree granting college. ACCA supported efforts to increase transfer credits between the colleges and public universities in select programs, increase the number and scope of college-university partnerships, establish joint funding models and expand the university system campuses and statewide programs.

In partnership with health care interests, the community colleges continued their efforts to use grant monies to enhance the number of nursing graduates in the state.

Upcoming Issues for 2006-2007

The 2007 Legislative Session will begin with a new legislature taking office and revenue collections expected to remain strong.

The increase in demand for higher education in Arizona will continue to be the focus of discussion. ACCA remains committed to engaging the legislative and executive branches of government to promote student focused models for higher education that allow enhanced access to and greater affordability of higher education for students statewide.

Learning is at the heart of the College's mission, providing lifelong opportunities to a diverse student population while promoting excellence in teaching, learning and service.

MCC provides access to students through its multiple locations. It has two comprehensive campuses (MCC at Southern and Dobson and MCC at Red Mountain) and several extended campus locations strategically located around the East Valley.

Major Accomplishments in 2005-2006

- Increased the number of MCC degrees and certificates awarded by 15 percent from prior year. Documented a 16 percent increase from prior year in the number of degrees granted to MCC transfer students at Arizona universities.
- Implemented the Dental Hygiene and Dental Assisting programs and created and conducted a Paramedic to RN pilot program.
- Developed a comprehensive strategic plan for global learning for the College and began planning for implementation.
- Expanded community partnerships and collaborations with Mesa Public Schools by offering more Spanish for Teachers courses to accommodate teachers' professional development needs.

- Received a three-year grant of $900,000 from the National Science Foundation to fund a collaboration between ASU, MCC, and Mesa Public Schools to develop a pipeline from high school to community college to university using a genomics research model to train bioscience laboratory technicians.
- Pilot tested a faculty learning communities program to engage faculty in a community of scholars to address significant institutional goals and conducted the year-long New Faculty Experience program to orient new faculty to the College's academic life.

Major Issues and Resolutions in 2005-2006

MCC has taken collaborative а approach to the first construction projects related to the 2004 bond referendum. Facility plans originally called for the construction of new Physical Science and Health Wellness buildings. The impact of rising construction costs created the need for a new approach to plans for the Health and Wellness building, slated as the last building to be constructed at Southern and Dobson. Faculty in the Physical Sciences and Health and Wellness departments collaborated to construct one building with the same square footage as the two that were originally proposed. Groundbreaking for Physical Science building is anticipated to occur in January 2007.

 The partnership between MCC and the Mesa Arts Center (MAC) was further formalized this year when the two partners agreed to make arts studio classes available to residents with the option of earning college credit.

Upcoming Issues for 2006-2007

- MCC is looking to partnerships and collaborations to offset rising construction costs so that all projects outlined in the 2004 bond referendum will be accomplished. Upcoming projects include the Performing & Fine Arts and Communications & Humanities buildings at Southern and Dobson, the expansion of MCC's Red Mountain campus, and the development of MCC's Downtown Campus.
- Enrollment has remained stable for three consecutive years and is attributed to facilities reaching nearly full capacity. Therefore, the expansion of facilities made possible through bond dollars is critical.
- The rollout date for the New Student Information System (SIS) is October 2007. Providing for adequate training time for the many users of SIS while completing normal business will be a significant issue, particularly in areas such as Student Affairs.

Introduction

For 20 years, Paradise Valley Community College (PVCC) has kept pace with the constant growth of the North Valley, offering breadth and depth of educational opportunity in more than 60 degree and certificate programs to a student population of over 8,800. Its service area extends from Glendale Avenue on the south, to I-17 on the west, to Scottsdale Road on the east, and the Maricopa County line on the north—374 square miles.

The focus of the College is effective student learning, the measurement and assessment of learning, and the creation of systems that foster and facilitate such learning.

- The PVCC chapter of Phi Beta Lambda Business Club participated in the organization's 2006 National Leadership Conference in Nashville. PVCC students took 2nd place nationally in Business Plan Projects, competing against 11 teams from colleges and universities across the country.

Major Issues and Resolutions in 2005-2006

- Implemented recommendations of the Higher Learning Commission consultant-evaluator team: created a new Institutional Effectiveness department; researched and published a new Assessment Handbook for outcomes measurement.
- A new Institutional Advancement unit was formed with the mission of coordinating College communications,

- fostering community outreach, development and alumni relations.
- Research and development completed an under-prepared student research project.
- Along with Northern Arizona University, created a 2+2 Program in which Business students can earn a four-year degree on the PVCC campus.
- Completed the Educational Specifications for two new campus buildings—Life Sciences and a new General Purpose Classroom building.

Upcoming Issues for 2006-2007

- Building enrollment, plus offering programs and services in light of budget challenges and tight resources. The College will need to continue exploring alternative course delivery methods to reach new students: online and hybrid classes, "Express College" and others. In addition, PVCC will assess the effectiveness of marketing, recruitment and communication strategies.
- Based on PVCC faculty research to understand the under-prepared student, a Student Success Pilot Program will be implemented with the goal of improving student persistence and retention. The pilot includes these mandatory policies: course placement testing, advisement, orientation, registration, and enrollment in COL101, an innovative college success course. This PVCC program will serve as a model for other MCCCD colleges.

 The PC Women's Softball Team won its third consecutive NJCAA Division II National Softball Championship, for its fifth national title in seven years.
- PC developed and implemented 59 new courses and modified 51 occupational programs to be more reflective of the needs of the current workforce. A new occupational program in Geospatial Technology was also developed.

Major Issues & Resolutions in 2005-2006

 Dr. Anna Solley was named President of Phoenix College in April 2006 after serving as Acting President for 15

- months. Another key member of the Administrative Team, Mr. Jesse De Anda, joined PC in November 2005 as Vice President of Student Affairs.

- Through a strong partnership with Arizona Public Service (APS), Salt River Project (SRP), Tucson Electric Power (TEP), Navopache Electric Cooperative, and Abitibi Consolidated, NPC's Power Plant Fundamentals program is at capacity with 68 students enrolled for Fall 2006. During the past year, 15 Power Plant Fundamentals students were hired at the local power plants, with starting salaries of $50,000+ and five were employed as summer interns.
- Consolidation of the Holbrook—Painted Desert Campus to the former U.S. Air Force Radar Station. The District's technology infrastructure was also moved from the former Holbrook Campus location.
- Ms. Claude S. Endfield, Program Chair for Early Childhood Programs since 1988 and a member of NPC's first graduating class, was named postsecondary Teacher of the Year for 2005 by the Family and Consumer Sciences Educators of Arizona (AZ FACS ED) Association. - Augment the Power Plant Fundamentals program and the Show Low Bluffs Development Project through new partnership agreements with APS, SRP, TEP and local industries, providing our communities with locally employable skill sets, living wages and transportable job opportunities.
- Continue to work with the Northern Arizona Training Center (NATC) to develop a regional emergency services training facility in Taylor, Arizona, which will include a burn tower, defensive driving track, rescue training sites and classrooms. NATC is a cooperative venture with the Northeastern Arizona Fire Chiefs Association, U.S. Forest Service, Navajo County Sheriff's Office, and local law enforcement and emergency medical agencies.
- Collaborate with the City of Holbrook on development of a "Campus of Care" with medical and residential detoxification facilities on the College's former Holbrook Campus.

In December 2005, Central Arizona College was ranked fifth in the Community College Week's Top 50 Fastest Growing Public Two-Year Colleges with enrollments between 5,000 and 9,999. Yet, the possible passage of Proposition 101 will tie the College's hands in levying appropriate property tax amounts to fund growing enrollment.

Yavapai County Community College District Yavapai College

Dr. James F. Horton, President 1100 E. Sheldon Street, Prescott AZ 86301

Introduction

Yavapai College (YC) has been serving the higher education needs of Yavapai County since 1969. Yavapai College's mission is to provide high quality, convenient and costeffective learning opportunities for the diverse populations of Yavapai County. The College's service area is over 8,000 square miles, which is larger than the states of New Jersey, Delaware, Connecticut and Hawaii. More than 15,000 students now take classes each year at more than 40 locations throughout the county. Yavapai College offers 82 certificate, degree and transfer options to students in 59 different programs of study.

Major Accomplishments in 2005-2006

- Yavapai College is again experiencing significant growth. The primary reason for this growth is the creation of a number of initiatives that have expanded educational programs and opened access for citizens who cannot pursue traditional class scheduling. The figures for the beginning of 2006 indicate an even greater pattern of growth as these initiatives mature and become better known by the general public.
- YC received formal notification from The Higher Learning Commission a part of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools that the College had met all of the requirements necessary for continuing accreditation.
- The YC Board of Governors retained a consultant to help them successfully implement policy governance. The College now has clear policy direction

- from the Board and a process for monitoring progress.
- Nursing graduates for Fall 2005 achieved a 100 percent pass rate on the NCLEX-RN licensing exam.
- An Allied Health coordinator was hired to begin the process of exploring ways the College can meet a variety of allied health program needs in the county. New programs in medical assisting, radiology technology, and laboratory technology are now being created. The College has applied for a $1.3 million grant from the Department of Labor to accelerate the development of these programs. The programs will be part of a larger partnership that will include Northern Arizona Health Education Council, Northern Arizona University and other community colleges.
- The College began a unique partnership with Guidance Helicopter. The College is providing a business degree option for the flight students since most will become independent base operators and will need sophisticated business acumen.
- The College formalized agreements with Northern Arizona University, Arizona State University and the University of Arizona and continues its relationship with Old Dominion University.
- The College is serving almost 700 senior citizens through the Osher Life Long Learning institute. No state money is used and private support from the Osher Foundation has made this an outstanding program for seniors in Yavapai County. Yavapai College is the only community college that receives funds from the Osher Foundation.

- The College's Small Business Administration (SBA) and Contract Training programs served over 270 businesses in 2005-2006. Over $600,000 in SBA loans and state grants was secured for local businesses.
- The YC Rough Riders Soccer Team made it to the national finals and the Rough Rider Baseball Team was runner up in the Junior College World Series held in Colorado.

Major Issues & Resolutions in 2005-2006

- Remodeling of the Prescott Campus funded by the 1999 general bond is nearing completion. The campus is now much more functional and has the additional space needed to meet the expanding needs of Yavapai County.
- President James Horton has appointed three new members to the College's leadership team. The new members added are: Bob Lynch, Vice President of Administrative Services; Dr. Utpal Goswami, Provost and Academic Vice President; and Steve Walker, Executive Director of College Development.

Upcoming Issues for 2006-2007

- A major issue facing Yavapai College is the need to acquire and install a new enterprise software system. The College is a leader in IT instructional support but the management software is unable to support the growth and increasing need for web-based access to all of the College's functions.
- Yavapai College is in the process of benchmarking all of the College's functional areas. The study will help the College reduce costs and become more efficient in all support operations.
- Demand for specialized training, including manufacturing, is increasing and the College does not currently have the resources to meet this demand. Plans for acquiring these resources include a number of possible partnerships with other institutions and the private sector.
