Arizona Conservation Corps is an Americorps program. It partners with state and federal land management / park agencies on various projects. This is a great opportunity for those who love the outdoors and would like to explore a future career working for a land management agency.

In the first part of the video, Shonto Greyeyes is discussing the “crew side” positions. These positions are limited to the ages of 18-25 years with terms of 11.5 weeks. In the second half of the video, Preston Sands, discusses the Individual Placement Program which are paid internship opportunities with terms up to 12 months. Some alumni from the Individual Placement Program have ended up working full-time for the agencies they interned for.
